ABSTRACT

This document is a comprehensive report of the student evaluations completed at Horry-Georgetown Technical College (SC) during the spring 1999 semester. As noted in the document, each degree and certificate program is subject to periodic review, which encompasses student surveys. For this survey, students were asked to respond to Likert-type rating items concerning their satisfaction with specific aspects of instruction, availability of instructors outside of class, and the academic environment. The report follows the format of the questionnaire and responses to rating items are given as averages. Reponses varied from 1, very dissatisfied, to 4, very satisfied. Students were also asked to give their grade point average. The overall findings indicate that the average overall rating of instructors and instruction is 3.7. Five additional items relating to the instructor were rated 3.6. A rating of 3.6 was given as an average response to the question regarding the availability of faculty outside of class. The learning and physical environment yielded the lowest averages at 3.3. Included in this document are copies of the actual surveys with response counts, averages and standard deviation figures for both the overall results as well as results given department by department. Student Evaluation of Instruction
Horry-Georgetown Technical College
Fall 1999
Executive Summary

Each degree and certificate program at Horry-Georgetown Technical College (HGTC) is subject to periodic comprehensive review. Such review encompasses surveying students presently enrolled in our programs as to their degree of satisfaction with services provided by Horry-Georgetown Technical College. The survey was distributed in each section of each class offered during the Spring 1999 semester.

Students were asked to respond to three sections of Likert-type rating items concerning their satisfaction with specific aspects of their instruction, the availability of instructors outside of the classroom setting, and the academic environment. Possible responses included 1, "Very Dissatisfied," 2, "Dissatisfied," 3, "Satisfied," and 4, "Very Satisfied." Students were also asked to provide an indication of their cumulative grade point ratio. The report summarizes responses given by providing evaluations by college and department. Results of the survey may be somewhat skewed due to the method of reporting, in that, students not identifying the proper instructor or course were excluded from the analysis. This report will follow the format of the survey questionnaire, and responses to rating items are given as averages.

The "Overall College" analysis yielded the following results (averages):

- The overall rating of the instructors: 3.7
- The overall rating of instruction: 3.7
- Student estimated GPA: 2.87
- 7 of the 10 items concerning the instructor were rated 3.7, all others a 3.6
- Availability of academic faculty outside of class was rated at 3.6
- Availability of advisor yielded a rating of 3.5
- Learning environment and physical environment yielded the lowest averages-at 3.3
- Textbook(s), materials, and supplies: 3.5
